HUNTINGTON
HIGH SCHOOL
NEWPORT NEWS
VIRGINIA

Foreword

In His "Ecclesiastes" the Almighty God bequeathed that to everything there is a season. Thus each of us can attest to the fact that the pattern of our lives is similar to a pendulum. In actuality, life is a paradox; after sorrow there is joy, after the rain, there is the rainbow, and even in the "midst of death, there is life."

During the past five years at Huntington High School, our educational career has been indicative of a "pendulum." Consequently, we hope we have captured in these pages, our "Season" of growth and change, happiness and disappointments, tragedies and triumphs.

As we leave this great institution of higher learning, we do so with profound assurance that if our lives in the past are indicative of our future, then our future "Seasons" will indeed reflect our successes.

For Devotion To Huntington

During our high school careers, each of us has felt the warmth, sophistication, and dynamic concern of our dedicatee, Mrs. Nannie Palmer Grandberry. We have come to know her as a lady who is always devoted "beyond the call of duty."

We have felt her influence through the many activities of the SCA, of which Mrs. Grandberry is the sponsor. To her, we have not just been students of Huntington's family, but we have been young ladies and men. She always expresses her belief that each of us can be successful with much effort and great optimism.

Here at Huntington, she is serving her eleventh year. She sponsors the Student Council, and co-sponsors the National Junior Honor Society.

In her community, she works diligently in her church and with the Political Action Committee.

It is with these many accomplishments in mind that we, the graduates of the 1970 class, very proudly dedicate the HUNTINGTONIAN to Mrs. Nannie Palmer Grandberry. It is our sincere hope that every student remaining will have the most delightful experience of knowing and working with Mrs. Grandberry.

We Dedicate Our Yearbook To . . .

Mrs. Grandberry as an active sponsor of the Student Council, works in collaboration with Mr. Pitchford with her 4th period Student Council study.

She works with all, from far and near, all races, creeds and colors.

Instruction

From day to day we found in our minds thoughts about realities that challenged our vigorous intellect. Often we got glimpses of truth that made us wonder what is our role in this mighty universe. Hence, we would dash off to class in search for answers and to gain direction.

A search for truth

Study     Huntington encourages intellectual growth on the club basis as well as in the classrooms. This being true, study is a "must". To provide students with longer study periods and better study habits, the school program provides a supervised study period and leadership classes after school.

Lunchtime

One of our favorite periods of the day was lunchtime; our favorite place was the cafeteria which provided us with a number of different experiences, seasonally. Therefore, we had:

A time to get away from textbooks.

A time to ease the problems of the administration. Seniors always carry their tray back.

Assembly

They caused a break in the schedule which kept us from adding another period of classroom knowledge to the archives of our minds, but they taught us as much about living as the textbooks. They . . .

Escape During class change and activity period at the end of the school day and on the week-end, we were able to escape from the academic world, the hectic ordeals of class discussions, examinations, and lectures, to the social world of the student.

ADMINISTRATION

Our administrators are the guiding forces of our school. They see that the school maintains the proper atmosphere and that the correct ingredients for planting the seeds of knowledge are always present.

They are constantly seeking new ways of improving the instructional program to provide for the greatest possible growth and best possible guidance for each individual sprout in the growth process.

They are the guiding forces who work directly and indirectly with each student and teacher, solving problems of student programming, coordinating student activities, and dealing with student behavior and guidance. They work to better prepare students for their future endeavors.

Our Principals, The

Ross M. Hines has become our first new principal in twenty-six years.

He plans to become directly and personally involved in activities taking place at Huntington. His direct involvement with the student body concerns formulating rules, regulations, and policies governing student educational progress. He takes an active part in club meetings and extracurricular activities. He also has an open door policy in which students can feel free to talk with the principal at any time. This helps to bridge the communication gap and bring students closer to the administration.

Mr. Hines hopes to secure more adequate facilities for teaching in order that the greatest possible growth in each student can take place. He feels that students need to develop a sense of responsibility in terms of the necessity of an education.

Mr. Hines admires one of our school's many athletic trophies.

Mr. Turner gives Mrs. Kea his ticket sales financial report while Mr. Hines observes.

Clarence Bamer discusses his plans for the future with Mr. Hines.

Guiding Forces Who .

As assistant principal in charge of curriculum affairs, Mr. Johnson works with and coordinates the activities of the guidance department heads, data processing personnel and activities of the librarian related to multimedia.

Some chief responsibilities are developing the master schedule and assisting in solving problems of student programming.

As an assistant principal, Mr. Holmes coordinates athletics and athletic affairs. He is in charge of cafeteria and custodial services as well as the school plant as a whole.

Relative to the student body, Mr. Holmes is in charge of student affairs for members of the junior and senior classes. In this capacity, he gives valuable counselling concerning scholastic achievement and information vital to a rewarding and challenging career.

As director of student life, Mr. Pitchford is concerned with the total development of student activities at Huntington.

He works directly with the student body handling problems of student behavior, absenteeism, and tardiness.

Are Directly Involved In Activities

The teamwork of the principals has been the most important factor in making our school successful.

Mr. Hines keeps a close check on the operation of the school cafeteria.

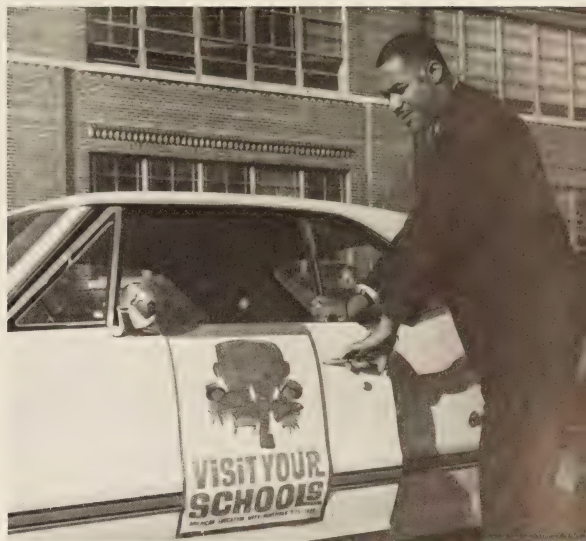

Mr. Johnson, Mrs. King, and Mrs. Cameron work diligently to make sure that everyone's schedule is correct.

In Our School

Mr. Hines at the Student Council installation ceremony with Kermit Ashby, Richard Brown, and the speaker, Mr. Phillip Walker.

By displaying this poster during American Education Week, Mr. Hines tries to encourage parents.

Mr. Pitchford is always involved in some way with the students in his capacity as coordinator of student activities.

Those Who Assist

Mrs. James, personal secretary to our principal, has a tremendous job keeping accurate records, typing letters, recording grades and keeping the school well informed through the public address system.

Mrs. Kea has the awesome responsibility of keeping a complete record of all financial transactions.

Mrs. Seabron's accuracy as a filing clerk helps greatly in checking pupil affidavits and federal forms.

Our Principals

Mrs. Cameron is Data Processing Coordinator for Huntington. In this capacity she is responsible for IBM class attendance cards, recording and assigning students to specific classes and assisting in the main office.

Mrs. Marshall has tremendous varied duties as secretary to Mr. Pitchford. She works directly with students while keeping a record of all student contacts with Mr. Pitchford.

Mrs. Cherry, as office clerk and receptionist, has the responsibility of general office duties. She assists teachers in getting out mimeographed materials, secures school supplies and smilingly greets all persons entering the office and directs them to proper sources.

Mrs. Wilson, director

Each counselor works with the administration, the faculty, and the individual student to help each Huntingtonian:

Understand his abilities and specific aptitudes.

Become a whole person.

Improve his community.

Become an active and informed citizen.

Achieve social progress.

Strive for higher horizons.

Cope with everyday problems.

Students wait to confer with counselors.

Counselors

Juniors seek information from Mr. Carter concerning the PSAT.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Bland plan a program to help freshmen get adjusted to a new environment.

Mrs. Lipscombe discusses with seniors possibilities of financial aid for advanced study.

Cultivate Undeveloped Areas

Mr. Hearst makes plans for the 1969-'70 testing program which involves eighth, ninth and eleventh graders.

Miss Smith has launched what is called Project 10. This project is an attempt to decrease the number of Tenth graders who might drop out of school.

ACADEMIC

With each new year comes an increase in the number of new teachers who believe in the same philosophy as the "old timers." This year was no exception.

Because the need of each student must be met, our faculty plants seeds in many areas, making possible for each student to gain access to many varied paths of learning, if he will nourish the seeds that are planted.

Each teacher, the planter of knowledge, works diligently to improve methods of planting so as to produce more effective growth, and to contribute to each student's "season of harvest" -- his seeing life, an amazing thing at the simplest, unfolds before him, hiding fears and inadequacies, providing a blissful satisfaction of independence and causing a desire to make a worthwhile contribution to the advancement of civilization.

Our library is indeed an indispensable part of our school curriculum. Mrs. Perry's main objective is providing for students and teachers materials that will stimulate their love for reading and aid them in doing research. Hence, she is continually stocking the library with all kinds of reading materials.

References for research are always available in the library.

FROM PARLEZ-VOUS FRANCAIS TO ¿PUEDE USTED HABLAR ESPANOL?

To enable students to speak French and Spanish with fluency is the primary objective of the department teachers. Students learn the customs and cultures of the people by reading their poetry, singing their songs, reciting their dialogues, and studying their art and music. The classes are conducted in their respective languages with the aid of the language laboratory.

FROM THE BASIC ELEMENT OF GRAMMAR AND THEME WRITING TO THE ANALYSIS OF "HAMLET"

In order to enhance better communication and understanding of mankind, the English teacher aspires to help every student transfer, and apply to his everyday life, the principles taught him in spoken and written communication along with principles set forth in literary works. To implement these aspirations the department offers the following courses: drama, speech, developmental reading, grammar, composition, journalism, and literature.

FROM THE EUPHRATES VALLEY TO MAN ON THE MOON (Apollo XI)

To give students a unified view of the world as it was yesterday, as it is today, and as it may be tomorrow, in order that they may better understand the role that they must play towards making it a better world, is the major goal of the social studies department. This goal is achieved through subjects in United States History, World History, Modern European History, Government, Economics, Geography, and Sociology. Negro History is also offered in this curriculum.

FROM THE FALLING OF THE APPLE TO THE SPLITTING OF THE ATOM

The science department of Huntington High does not only challenge the rightful application of Newton's law on gravity and Einstein's research of atomic energy, but it also strives to acquaint students with the concepts of coping with today's technological world. The curriculum offers beginning students an introduction to basic physical and biological sciences. Sophomores obtain an understanding of the various processes such as reproduction and adaptation. The juniors are offered a challenging insight into chemistry. Advanced physics and biology are available for desiring and qualified students.

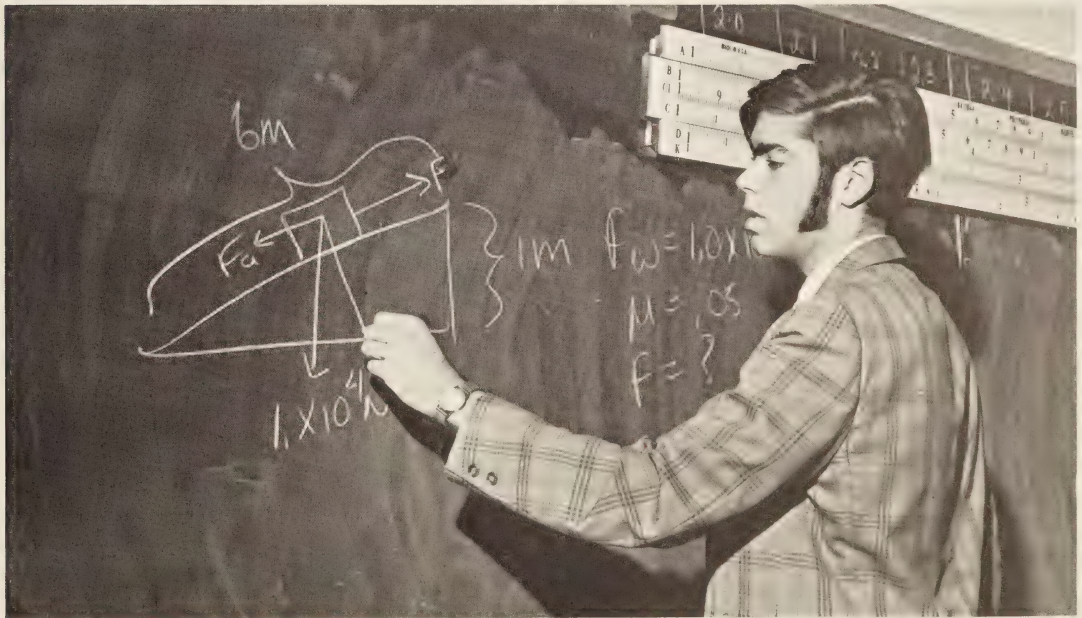

Biology proves to be an exciting as well as rewarding course, as exemplified by Dianne Watts and Quincey Lee.

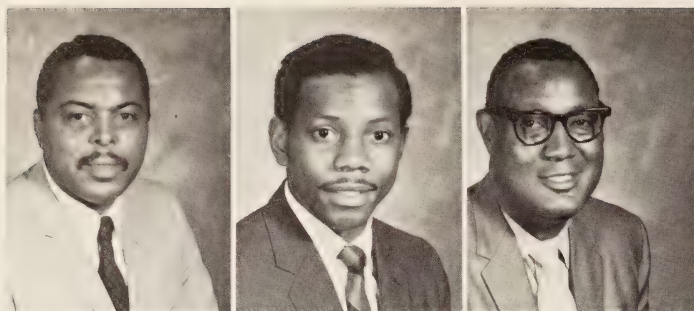

Mrs. Fannie King looks on as students illustrate proper lab techniques in chemistry.

FROM LONG DIVISION TO $E=MC^2$

The mathematics curriculum is a rewarding asset to all students. Though it is a requirement for graduation, it is a must in the development of young scientific minds. Under the chairmanship of Miss Lillian Weaver, the department offers to those with advanced mathematical background, courses that will help them pursue careers in architecture, chemistry, biology, aerospace studies, and many other fields. These courses include algebra, general math, geometry, math analysis, and consumer mathematics.

The math analysis class is occupied by students pursuing Mathematical careers.

FROM DO-RE-MI TO HANDEL'S "MESSIAH"

The music department seeks to up-grade the cultural level of the students of Huntington by creating interests in this fine art. In addition, the department provides a medium for the development and expression of each student's talent in such electives as choir, instrumental and string music. Participation in concerts and other activities give students an opportunity to exhibit their talents.

Mrs. Mann, Miss Perrin, and Mrs. Vencill are united in the belief that students can develop a more authentic awareness and appreciation of the visual world through art. They start from the simplest form of pencil sketching and proceed to the most advanced stage of acrylic. The objectives of the department are to help develop each student's creative abilities, to increase his effectiveness in this talented area, and to help each student appreciate the famous works of art.

FROM BLUEPRINTS TO PRACTICAL SKILLS

With the blueprints of various constructions, it is the job of the industrial arts teachers to help students develop them into practical skills. The instructors' aims are accomplished through a diversified curriculum which produces visual examples of drafting, general metal work, masonry, electronics, wood models, and power transportation. This training gives the student a knowledge of the influence of the Industrial Arts Program and the opportunities of employment available in our modern social and economic life.

Mr. J. Royster; B.S. A.&T. State Univ., M.S.; N. Carolina University

Students at Huntington are being prepared to meet challenges in the business world of today as well as of tomorrow. Equipped with more advanced training methods, every teacher in the business department strives to produce efficient office workers who excel in typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, senior stenography, and data processing. ## FROM BASIC ECONOMICS TO DECISION MAKING IN THE WORLD OF MARKETING

The primary objective of the Distributive Education Program is to prepare youth for full-time employment in the field of distribution. The courses serve as background for students who plan to continue advanced training at post high school levels in Business Administration, Marketing, Merchandising, Advertising, and related fields.

The program is otherwise designed to prepare the student for future entry into the world of work also.

The preparatory program consists of one period daily for classroom instructions. The second and third levels are designed so the student has one period daily of classroom instruction and scheduled periods for supervised on-the-job training in a retail, wholesale, or service selling business.

Nourishment

CAFETERIA STAFF

Mrs. East and the staff prepare daily, a well balanced meal which is a necessity for growth. Whether or not the seeds of knowledge sip in and produce depends upon the physical fitness of the body, which is gained to a great extent through the consumption of a proper diet.

A Wholesome Environment

CUSTODIAL STAFF

Just as there must be constant cultivation of the soil to keep the environment clean where earthly seeds are planted so that it will be conducive for plant growth, so must the environment where the seeds of knowledge are planted to be kept clean if intellectual growth is to take place.

We are thankful to the members of the custodial staff for carrying out this role.

Through the aid of our school nurse Mrs. Holloway, the student is treated or advised as to what he should do if his physical condition is unfavorable for the intake of knowledge, its growth and its productivity.

UNDERCLASSMEN

There is a promise of a future to be filled with more than mere melancholy, fits of spleens and a luxurious gloom of choice if each will think, love and put into practice the things that he is taught as he goes through the cycles of growth -- both mental and physical year by year.

The Stages Of Growth . . .

EIGHTH GRADE HONOR SOCIETY STUDENTS

1. Bonita McDonald
2. Tracy Smith
3. Gwendolyn Jones
4. Charlene Smith
5. Linda Walker
6. Donald Ward

The class of '74, beginning with orientation day, began to realize their "season" of becoming adjusted to new environments, knowing the value of the who, what, where and why of things, and witnessing that our life is not always "a bed of roses"; we are constantly faced with challenges, competition, and tragedies, where only the "strong" survives; a good educational foundation aids.

Class Of '73

With the completion of a year of orientation and adjustment freshmen began a more serious aspect of full fledged high school life. They felt a thrill as their talent and ideas were integrated into organizations. They felt a sense of belonging and realized that high school life was more than just classes in English, Math, History, etc. It was a lesson in living.

Sophomores Become Involved

After having benefited from previous seasons and having reached the midpoint of their high school career, the sophomores took on new responsibilities of more challenging seasons. They jumped wildly into the stream of campus life, taking an active part in all school functions from leaders to followers. They were no longer "green" but old hands, desiring to lead, willing to serve, and ready to approach a higher goal.

Senior Elect — Future Leaders

Having witnessed: a changing society -- individualism versus conformity, a new set of values advocating that the end does not justify the means, and world issues that are being brought down to earth on many campuses, the juniors -- well seasoned now -- realized the necessity of their becoming well-prepared to take on the duty of leadership in the classroom, in activities and the Athletic field. They accepted the confronting challenges with pride because they realized that in 1970-1971, their leadership would determine whether Huntington's integrity would stand or fall.

Activities

Each planted seed sprouts into an activity. Growth is an important facet of any substance planted, even for the seeds of knowledge.

What perhaps enhances the growth of the seeds of knowledge most is active participation in various organizations. Active participation in various organizations adds to the students' intellectual growth because it gives the student a chance to increase the skills he has learned in the classroom; it serves as a training ground for preparing students for future adult leadership and involvement because of the opportunity for the transferal of knowledge; it teaches correct use of leisure which provides moments of relaxation and entertainment and probably most important, it is the avenue through which students best learn the meaning of the word which is most significant to man's survival -- teamwork.

From the beginning of man's existence it has been his ability to work as a team that has caused the wheel of progress to turn.

Thus, Huntington encourages intellectual growth on the club and activity basis as well as in the classroom.

The Nerve Center Of Student Affairs

Why a S.C.A.? Perhaps the answer can be put best in capsule form -- to learn today in order to lead tomorrow. With this in mind the S.C.A. strives to promote personal responsibility, loyalty and a high sense of honor in the individual. It encourages the student body to follow thinkingly the highest principles of our United States democratic way of life. The association believes that as many students as possible throughout the school should have a part in its various activities. Most of these activities stress the spirit of service -- service to classmates, to the community, to the United States and to the people throughout the world. It believes in promoting better inter-school relations and student-faculty relations.

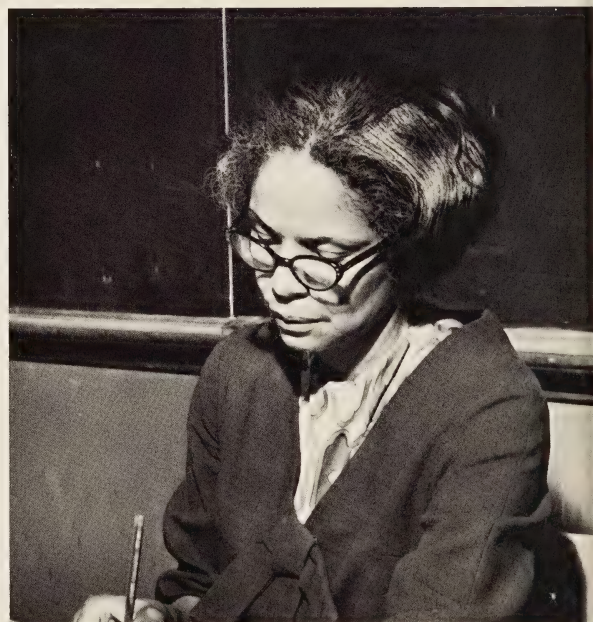

Based upon these premises the organization has sponsored many activities throughout our four years that exemplify these beliefs.

THE NATIONAL JUNIOR AND SENIOR HONOR SOCIETIES

When a seed is planted, it must be cultivated during its period of growth. If no attention is given to it, chances are, it will grow; but at the time of harvest, it will be fragile and many times it will be useless.

Just as the seed is to be cultivated, students at Huntington High School strive for five years to cultivate their minds; thereby, improving themselves academically and socially. Membership in the Lillian M. Weaver Chapter of the National Senior Honor Society and the Effie Mae Green Chapter of the National Junior Honor Society is an example of what a student becomes in his quest for improvement. Through endless efforts, students have achieved at least a 3.0 average, given of themselves in community services, and become leaders among their peers. The societies strive to encourage students to better themselves by promoting an interest in scholarship in all of the grade levels. As a group, these students render the type of service in the community that appeal to adults as well as students to do more.

MATHEMATICS CLUB

The purpose of the Mathematics Club is to stimulate interest in students to study more mathematics while in high school. Lectures and demonstrations are arranged to nourish these seedlings in becoming active members of the mathematics world.

HEALTH CAREERS CLUB

The club promotes growth for members who are interested in nursing and other fields of medicine as a career.

Mirror Human Experiences

Mr. Leon Ivory, Director

The Huntington Players believe that "The Play Is The Thing." Drama like any other art strives to communicate a human experience and the members of the Drama Club take great pride in their accomplishments. The plays which have been produced since the seniors were sophomores are A RAISIN IN THE SUN, THE DEVIL AND TOM WALKER, LOOK HOMEWARD ANGEL, I'M A FOOL, and EVERYBODY LOVES OPAL.

The Drama Club presented THE DEVIL AND TOM WALKER in the District Festival last year and received a rating of excellent.

The students of Drama attended many of the plays presented at Hampton Institute, the Wedgewood Theatre and high schools. During the fall of '69, the students went to Hampton Institute to see LE MISANTHROPE, a brilliant comedy by Moliere. The students thoroughly enjoyed the play and gained a tremendous amount of knowledge. At the Wedgewood Theatre the students enjoyed a three act comedy, A SHOT IN THE DARK, which was performed by semi-professional actors and actresses. Some of the students went to Carver to see a night of plays, which was well received.

The Drama Club presented their annual Fall play which was entitled EVERYBODY LOVES OPAL, which featured Gerald King as Sol and Charlene Wesley, Laverne Johnson and Adene Kemp. The play portrays the vices of society and its effects on a non-suspecting victim.

These three seniors, Charlene, Gerald, and LaVern prepare set for EVERYBODY LOVES OPAL.

Adene Kemp helps Alice Ricks make up for the play, THREE ON A BENCH.

Growth In Social Issues

Growth in decision making ability and total student involvement are the seeds that the members of the Social Studies Club strive to cultivate. From the beginning of its conception, student involvement has been the overriding objective.

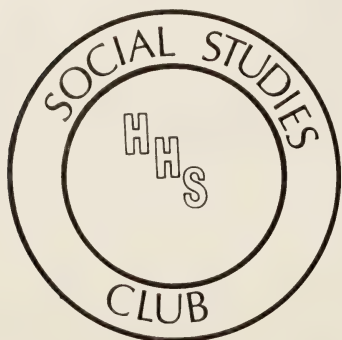

To enhance this involvement, the club sponsors activities such as observance of Negro History Week and the presentation of cultural programs.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Irene Baker and Mr. Isiah Robinson, the students learn the value of democratic procedures and the club brings historical items of interest to the student body through their assemblies and bulletin board displays.

The president this year is Sherita Goodwin, a senior.

Critical Thinking

The Debating Society provides growth in critical thinking and constructive argument. The students gain practice in speaking extemporaneously before their peers. They also learn to respect the ideas and opinions of others.

The society participates in local and regional tournaments and they have been guests on such college campuses as Wake Forest University.

Better known as the FBLA, the club is designed to help students grow in competence and to develop business-like leadership.

Through membership and participation in the club, the students are exposed to such facets of business as the requirements for jobs and the choice of occupation best suited for the individual.

The requirements for membership are at least two years of typing or two years of some other business subject.

The club strives to improve individual citizenship. The students are exposed to situations in which they learn to make logical and objective decisions.

Home Economics

MISS F. H. A. -- GAIL BACON

From the first hour one spends in a home economics class, new and additional seeds of growth are imbedded in the student. One becomes involved in learning the acceptable and correct way to cook, sew, budget and take care of a home.

The students are offered further experiences in becoming successful homemakers through the activities of the Future Homemakers of America Club. Under the direction of Mrs. Lettie J. Booker, the girls improve their personal, family and community living. They become involved in activities such as participation in conventions, serving as hostesses for many occasions, presenting fashion shows, and assisting community organizations as the Salvation Army.

Linda Gurley, a senior, is president of the club this year.

"We Serve"

Service is the main purpose of Keyettes: service to our school, our community, and country. "We serve" has been chosen as the motto, and each girl, upon becoming a keyette, must accept the responsibility of upholding and supporting that motto.

The Huntington High School chapter was organized in October 1968, and it is affiliated with the Peninsula District Keyettes and International Keyettes.

Keyettes have engaged in a variety of service activities since its inception. Among these activities are annual presentation of Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets, participation in the United States Marine Corps, and giving Toys For Tots.

The club endeavors to increase student knowledge and awareness of science in an effort to make them conscious of its importance to their lives; to stress the need for service to the community and to improve general skill in science. Also, we wish to encourage student participation in local, state and national science programs.

From Today's Work Comes . . . Tomorrow's Success

The program of the Charles R. Drew Chapter of the Future Teachers of America for 1969-70 has been one of action and involvement. We have kept before us our yearly theme, "We must act now, we must work now if we want to experience success tomorrow." Involvement now through education is a stunning complement of our club's objective. To this end we have participated in varied activities.

The FTA club had its first main event in November by honoring new teachers and students teachers at a banquet. The guest speaker was Reverend Newkirk. We had a delightful week during American Education; we visited Virginia State School and toured the campus to help us decide what field of teaching we desire; three members of the FTA club spent the weekend in Richmond for the State Convention, where Bernice Howard won first place as member at-large. She is the first Black girl to win the office since the convention integrated. Each member has a special project. It is to assist any teacher in some way everyday in order to learn the qualifications one must possess in order to become a teacher.

WE GROW MUSICALY DOING OUR THING

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF

"Strings Are Our Thing"

Members of the String Orchestra rehearse the music for the Virginia State String Orchestra which will be held in Arlington, Virginia. C. Craddock, V. Burgess, P. Terrell, B. Jones, P. Bazemore, and V. Harrison.

"Singing Is Our Game"

S. Everett, A. White, B. Coefield, and A. Melton rehearse the music for the District VIII Regional Chorus.

"We Lend A Hand To the Band"

Band members who participated in the District VIII Regional Band are R. Crawford, J. Joyner, J. Gillespie, C. Craddock, R. McDonald, J. Dooley, M. Terry, K. Wilson, and R. Gregory.

"The Sound of 100" is the name given to the marching band, which is composed of one hundred instrumentalists. The marching band performed at eleven football games this year, as well as several parades and "pep" assemblies.

The Symphonic Winds and Percussions is the concert band and is made up of qualified members of the marching band. Its performance is restricted to assemblies, concerts and district music activities.

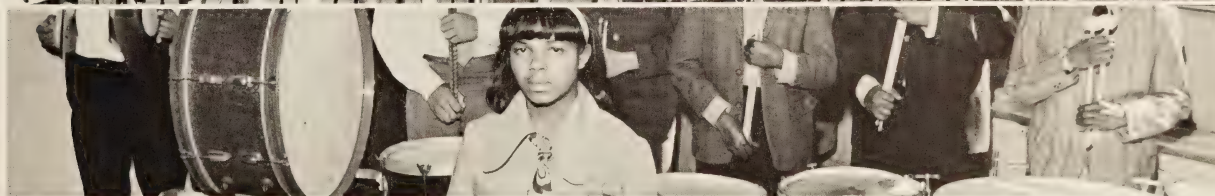

Our Drum Major, Majorettes and Flag Twirlers add exciting rhythmic motion to the half time shows. These students make the band a delight to see as well as to hear.

Mr. Herring and the Band Council together make and enforce the rules and regulations that govern the bands

The Stage Band is the name given to the organization which seeks to foster the more popular idioms; jazz, rock and pop.

The Int. Winds and Perc. is composed primarily of eighth and ninth grade students. This group is an outgrowth of the intermediate class, and performs for concerts, assemblies and district music activities.

The String Orchestra is the latest addition to the Music Department. This organization affords qualified string students the opportunity to develop musically, intellectually, and socially.

Orchestra members serve the community through active participation in the Newport News All-City Orchestra and the Hampton Institute-Community Orchestra, in addition to the many services provided our alma-mater.

These students represent Huntington on the regional and state levels, through their active participation in the Regional String Orchestra, the Virginia State String Orchestra and the Solo and Ensemble Contests. Their repertoire includes selections from "Bach to Rock."

Planning Our Program

Mr. Boyd and club officers work out details for the next concert. vice pres. P. Bazemore; gen. mang. C. Craddock; sec. V. Harrison; treas. P. Terrell; and director F. D. Boyd.

"String Quartet"

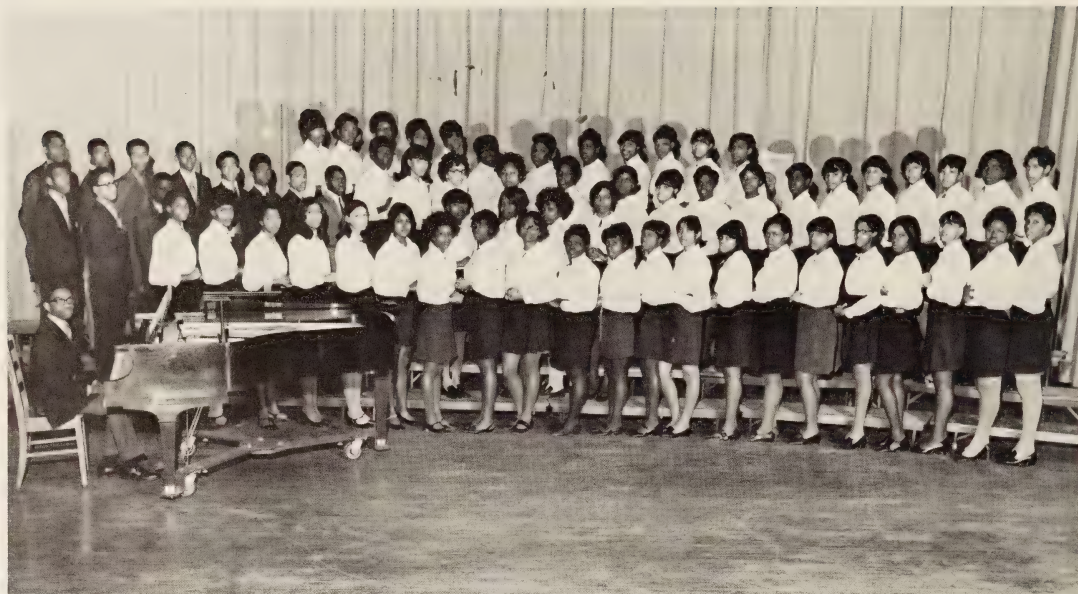

Playing in chamber ensembles is a vital part of our musical training. Students are encouraged to participate in smaller groups in hope that they will become more independent as performers.

Preparing for a rehearsal is just one of the duties of the Orchestra Librarians. N. Haggar; B. Coleman; S. Goodwin; P. Patterson.

"Moments of Fun and Relaxation" are displayed by guitarist D. Small, T. Smtih, J. Hundley, M. Marshall and R. Harris.

The Huntington High School Choir has brought honor and fame to its school through its frequent television appearances, the annual Christmas Concert, Spring Concert and invitations to sing throughout the state. It has been rated by music critics as one of the best choirs in the state.

"Mr. Bouldin gives A. Milton, the choir's accompanist, a few pointers."

The Girl's Chorus was organized three years ago. This group has appeared on the Annual Xmas concert and the Spring Concert. It has a membership of fifty.

The mellow voices of the male section of the choir add richness to the sound of the choir.

Opportunity Through Experience

VOT MEMBERS

VOCATIONAL OFFICE TRAINING

VOT is an approved program of studies and work experience for senior students preparing for a cluster of job skills in office occupations. It provides students an opportunity to learn while they learn.

Seniors who are selected for this program attend classes in the morning and gain supervised on-the-job experience in local business offices in the afternoon.

These students get their school office training through the Senior Stenography (two-hour block) class of the VOT class -- a classroom appropriately housed with modern office machines and equipment. Class instruction runs the gamut of office experiences. Much of the time is spent simulating the business office.

Mr. J. W. Royster, VOT Coordinator ably coordinates this program.

At the beginning of the '69 football season many questions were asked: "Can a junior, fill the shoes of the senior graduate Big Man Green?" "Will going into a new league (VIA to VHSL) have a mental effect on this new junior quarterback and the team, with 21 graduates gone from last year?" "Will the new rising underclassmen possess the incentive to go out and play like champions?" These and many other questions were answered explosively.

Year Of Questioning

"Samuels' 6 Touchdown Passes Spark Huntington, 46-22," removed all doubt about the all popular, super dynamic, Alphonso Samuels, and the Mighty Viking Team.

The Team played as a complete unit all ready and all powerful to do what had to be done on the field. The explosive offense and the devastating defense were both deciding factors throughout the season. Our 6-2-2 record was a tribute to a good coach, good team, good season, and the fighting spirit of every Viking.

Sophomore offensive end, Michael Hagans, grabs a perfect pass despite the opponents's pursuit.

J.V. Gridiron

"It matters not whether you win or lose, but how you played the game." These words apply to the J.V. Football squad. Although the 1969 season was not a success in terms of games won, it has served the purpose well. It gave the boys game experience and a knowledge of football fundamentals -- a training camp for future varsity players.

According to Huntington's Coach Hartman, a number of the J.V.'s are good prospects for next year's varsity squad.

Viking

The 1969 basketball season has been very successful considering that Coach Freddie Travis took a comparatively baby squad and developed it from a rugged team to one with good sportsmanship and good playing prospects for the 1970-71 season. The Vikings fought hard to uphold the prestige of the past HHS hardcourt squads and did so admirably. Their smooth ball handling and cool play, despite their inexperience proved to be impressive in the district.

Court

The Blue and White finished with a record of 6 wins and 11 losses.

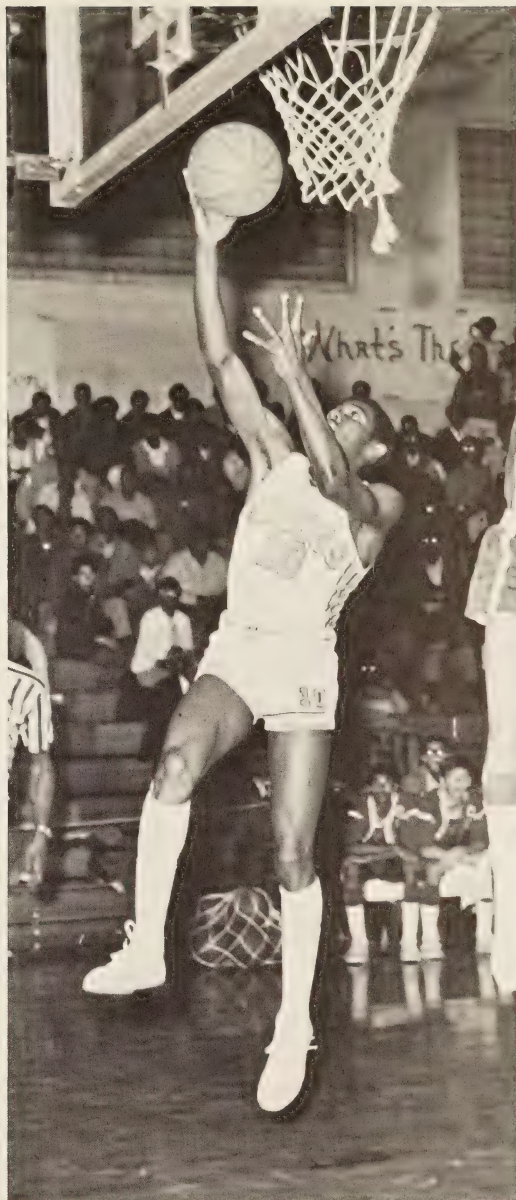

With no regulars returning from last year, Coach Travis managed to seek out five of last year's reserves: William Howell, Michael Hagans, Percy Perry, Arthur Wiggins, and Thomas Harris. The top gunner of Travis's charge was Michael Hagans, who proved to be one of the better backcourt men in the district.

It's unbelievable! Lee Allen Brown hits two points.

J.V. Basketball

Though the Junior Varsity Basketball team usually gets little recognition, we cannot overlook its outstanding performance this year. Under the guidance of Coach George Davis, these boys compiled a 12 win and 5 lost record.

The J.V. featured such outstanding players as Dwight Sprattley, Ronald Giddings, Charles Robinson, Charles Brown, and Ray Johnson. These boys will be a real asset to the future varsity teams.

8th & 9th Grade Is Successful

Coached by Coach Garrell Hartman, the 8th and 9th grade basketball team won all its games this season with the exception of two. Led by Johnny Williams, Keith Sidney, Jesse Grey, and Red Hamilton, the team gained valuable experience that will be profitable in future years when these same boys will be members of the varsity squad.

Baseball Review

As the 1970 Huntingtonian goes to the press, baseball season is just getting started. Under the direction of Coach Garrell Hartman, the squad looks as if it will be a real contender for the district title. Some of the returning players for this season are William Jones, Norman Jarrett, William Perkins, Ebbie and Alphonso Samuels and Robert Hopson.

Track Review

As the track team was preparing for the spring meets, the Huntingtonian was going to the press. With a number of outstanding performers this year, the Viking squad looks promising. In the indoor meets, the Blue and White male dynamic impression on the other competitors. Coaches Theodore Bacote, Thaddeus Madden, and Joe Buggs feel that this year's squad will be one of the best in the district, featuring such stars as Cyrus Gaines, Alonzo Williams, Keith Witherspoon, Willie Hawkins, and Charles Eason.

Tennis Review

As the Huntingtonian goes to the press, the tennis season is just getting started. Its charges will be led mainly by Michael Mitchell and Herbert Hodge. Under the direction of Coach George Davis, the squad will encounter such competition as Denbigh, Pembroke, Bethel, Hampton, Carver, and Ferguson.

Seniors

The tempo of life was timed to the slowly burning beauty of Indian Summer, to the short days and diamond cold stars that danced a quadrille in the blue sky of winter, and to the flowering of spring -- the last and loveliest season spent here at Huntington.

For all of us, spring was a symbol of many things. It was the flowering of the past and the promise of a future to be filled with more than itself because of the things we have lived and thought and loved here.

We have been privileged to share in a wonderful process of growth -- intellectual, social, and emotional. We as a class can be proud of our creativity of planning, our activity of performance, and the validity of our progress that resulted from the new ideas and exciting concepts given us which were stored in our mental reservoir.

The forces here at Huntington were so great in shaping our lives that we now approach the world with many-sided interests, and keen insights into the problems of the day. For surely our high school career has been instrumental in unfolding the petals of reality, making possible for us to be better prepared to cope with the awaiting problems of life and to climb higher mountains.

To The Graduating Class Of 1970

Dear Graduates:

For each of you, I wish the very best that life can offer.

The things that have happened here are now history, only to be recorded as events you experienced at Huntington High School. To those of you who helped make the history, these years will hold a deeper meaning and you will revive and recapture their essence often.

It is my feeling that some members of your class will achieve distinction in life and do the things that people proclaim great.

It is my hope that each of you will perform the small day-by-day responsibility in a great way and that you will find happiness in doing well whatever you have to do.

If you do your very best as you perform all of your responsibilities, large and small, you will fulfill our greatest hope for you.

Sincerely yours,

Recollection Of People And Events

Realizing the time of seed and sowing, and the cycles of growth here at Huntington are ended, and our harvest is indeed abundant, we the members of the 1970 graduating class have a recollection of individuals who labored so diligently in the vineyard of education for our cause, who sowed seeds of knowledge that sprouted and became productive and who, by exemplification; showed love, humility, and patience for us, the seedings of today as well as those of yesterday. We therefore wish to have them and their deeds recorded in our chest of memories; for today they stand like pillars in a foundation because they desired to be of service to America's future leaders.

Years Of Dedicated Service

In appreciation for a career of nearly three decades, representative of continued devotion, dedication, and service beyond the call of duty, the members of the 1970 Class of Huntington High School, proudly salute their former principal Mr. W. D. Scales.

Deeply rooted and grounded by a desire to help his fellowman, he stands today like a ship's anchor. By his extensive work, he nourished our school when it was but a tiny bud, cultivated it tenderly when it began to sprout, pruned it carefully to insure that like the good plant it would produce only the best fruits. For twenty-six years, like the watchman of the vineyard, he remained constant and steadfast in seeing that each year would be productive.

The achievements of his administration are numerous and invaluable. Under his direction four new departments were created; Business, Industrial Arts, Art and Guidance. He implemented the curriculum's offerings by including such courses as string music, Spanish, industrial cooperative training, distributive education, a program in Practical Nursing, courses at the Peninsula Vocational Technical Center where students are trained in skills of welding, brick masonry, and auto mechanics, a program in Reading based on developmental and remedial reading.

Feeling that extracurricular activities play an important role in the total development of an individual, Mr. Scales encouraged wholehearted participation in extracurricular activities. As a result, the clubs and organizations at Huntington grew from 7 in 1943 to 25 by June 1969. Growth is evident in other areas also: assistant principals none to 2; office assistant 1 to 6; faculty membership 27 to 117; library assistants none to 2; the student body 500-2, 290 and the physical plant from a small plant site to a construction of seven blocks.

In August of 1969, he was promoted to the position of Advisory Specialist of Desegregation for the Newport News School System.

Mr. Scales presides at his last commencement exercise.

We Bid A Fond Farewell Who labored So

Miss L. K. Frazier

A graduate of Indiana and Columbia Universities for the Bachelor's and Master's Degrees respectively, Miss Frazier has served at Huntington High School for thirty-eight years.

Displaying her ability in her majors, French and Spanish, over the years she has planted the seeds of wisdom and knowledge in varied capacities such as sponsor of the Annual and the Mirror, and organizations such as the French and English Clubs. She was also an organizer and the first adviser to the first National Honor Society at Huntington. She is a past chairman of the State English Department, and is currently serving as chairman of the Foreign Language Department. Some eighteen members of the present faculty were students in her class.

Believing that education is a continuous process, and that each child should have the right to his opportunity in education, Miss Frazier is to be commended as a laborer in the vineyard of education.

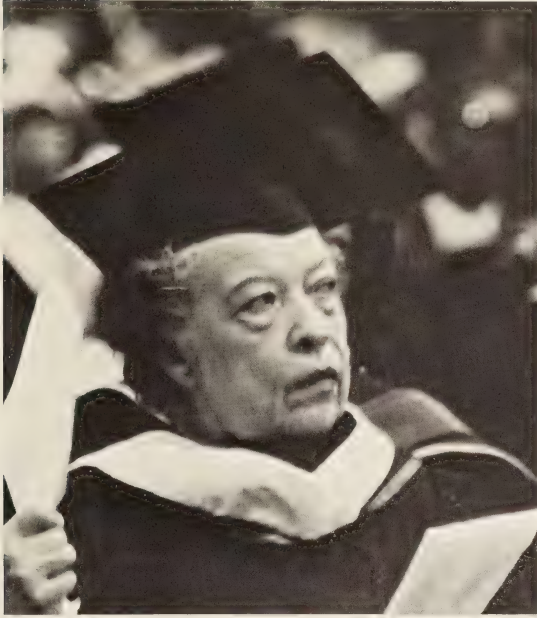

Miss Frazier enjoys a banquet with fellow Alpha Kappa Alpha, members.

Mr. D. Lawrence

A pioneer in the educational field Miss Lillian Weaver has served at Huntington High School for twenty-nine years. Receiving her Bachelor's Degree from Wilberforce University in Mathematics and English, and the Master's Degree from New York University, Miss Weaver has carefully watched her seeds develop in a wholesome manner. How carefully has she fertilized, stimulated, and nourished her treasurers to insure this development.

She too has served our school in a large number of capacities such as the Chairman of the American Education Committee, Evaluating Committee for Career Day and the Chairman of the Committee of the Committee for Criteria, and the First Honor Roll at Huntington.

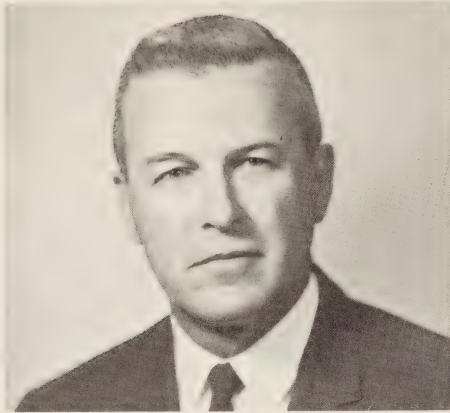

She will long be remembered by Hunting-tonians and Virginians alike for having organized the first Future Teachers of America Club and the Student at Huntington; each organization later helped to organize these clubs for the state.

Currently, Miss Weaver is serving as chairman of the mathematics department and also can cite some twenty faculty members who sat in her class and four who are former members of the F.T.A. Club.

The motto of the F.T.A. Club so much has been portrayed in Miss Weaver's life: "Ideals are like stars; you cannot succeed in touching them with your hands. But like the seafaring man choose them as your guide, and you will reach your destiny."

Those Who Provide Financial Support And Determine Policies

Mr. George McIntosh,
Superintendent of the Newport News Schools

The School Board of the City of Newport News is the legally constituted body responsible for the determination of policies covering all aspects of the operation of the public schools. They operate in accordance with the constitutional and statutory provisions of the Commonwealth of Virginia and the City of Newport News and under regulations of the State Board of Education.

In addition to being the policy making body for the school system, the Board employs all staff members, constructs school buildings, adopts annual expenditure and acts as a court of appeals. Its seven members are dedicated to the concept of quality education for every young person in Newport News.

Mr. Gordon F. Pullen, Jr., Mrs. John Paulson, Dr. J. T. Jobe, III, Mr. J. M. Dozier, Jr., Mr. Richard Newman, Dr. Stanley Gramum, Dr. W. T. Watkins, Jr.

Newport News City Council

The Newport News City Council plays two major roles in the educational development of our city. They appoint the School Board and provide funds to insure the proper academic and plant facility growth of our education system. The Council appoints members of the School Board who are dedicated to the roll of advancing and improving our school system, and members who are willing to work with the school administrations in providing a more progressive school system. Few facilities have the financial impact upon budgets of local governments as the school. Most communities are required to provide public school facilities for every child; and because school age children comprise approximately 1/4 of our total population a growing community must be concerned with the continual expansion of school plant facilities.

From Research Resignation, To Deadline

Research is being carried out by Mrs. Love, Harry, and Ronald.

A yearbook is more than a mere collection of pictures and isolated sentences and paragraphs. It is a printed pictorial story of each graduate's five years of high school life. Therefore, it must be constructed with consistency and continuity which requires the life and breath of months of planning and work by devoted members.

Consequently, our yearbook room was the scene of many long hours of laboring, the throwing away of layout sheets -- revising others -- and the tearing out of hair. In capsule form, it was the scene of many frustrating moments.

However, in March, we triumphantly sent the last part of the book to the press with a sigh of relief, realizing that in spite of the frustrating moments, publishing the 1970 Huntingtonian was both enjoyable and rewarding.

Harry, Gerald, and Ronald carry material home for over-night planning, where much trial and error will take place.

After much copy writing, Mrs. Robinson, Diane and Brenda spent many hours proofreading.

Trial And Error Tribulations

Gerald, Harry, Ronald, and Mr. Fulton have patience as they labor over the tedious task of drawing up 3R sheets.

Jean, Sherrell, and Lucy make use of all their typing skills as they type up 3R's to be sent to the plant, for there must be no errors.

These young men solicit advertisements to help finance the cost of the annual.

We pause here. The Seniors say their goodbyes. We recognize all that took place during our stages of growth here at Huntington and have tried to combine it to tell the story of our high school career.

Although for five years we have eagerly anticipated this time of harvest, now that it has arrived there is regret -- regret that the ties of friendship must be broken, that we did not take advantage of all that we should and that there are things that must be left undone and untold. However, we feel that if the future deals with us as kindly as the past has done, life will indeed be prosperous.

To the Huntingtonian Committee and to our principal, Mr. Hines, who helped make our yearbook a success, and to all others who helped us reach this time of harvest, thank you and best wishes, for without your support it would have been impossible.

NEWPORT NEWS. WE'VE LAUNCHED MORE THAN 500 SHIPS.

But wait 'til you see our encore. When we started out in 1886, we were just a small ship repair yard. We named the company Newport News. Because we were proud to be doing business here.

Today we're the largest shipyard in the world. And we're still proud to call ourselves Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. Because a lot of the people who helped put us where we are today come from right here on the Virginia Peninsula.

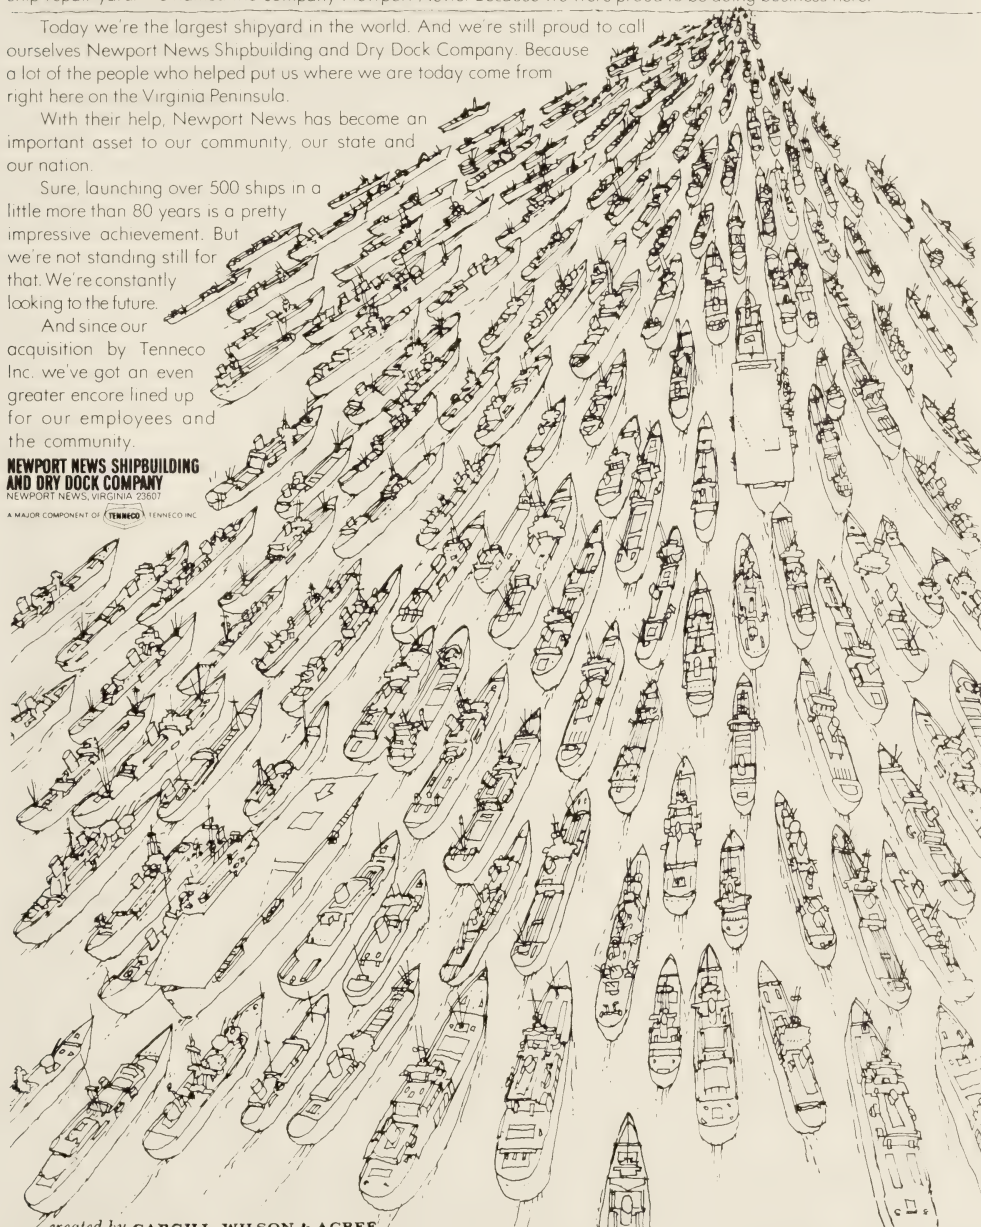

With their help, Newport News has become an important asset to our community, our state and our nation.

Sure, launching over 500 ships in a little more than 80 years is a pretty impressive achievement. But we're not standing still for that. We're constantly looking to the future.

And since our acquisition by Tenneco Inc. we've got an even greater encore lined up for our employees and the community.
